Clans are very important in Buganda culture because they identify family lineage and regulate marriage relationships.

Importance of Clans:

- Preserve family identity and ancestry.
- Promote unity and social order.
- Guide marriage customs (members of the same clan do not marry each other).
- Protect and preserve Buganda culture.

Ours is; Nsenene Clan – Grasshopper.

Leadership of the Nseenene Clan in Buganda Kingdom

The Nseenene Clan (Ekika ky'Enseenene) is one of the recognized clans of the Buganda Kingdom. The clan traces its ancestry to the ancient clans that existed before the coming of Kabaka Kintu.

The role of Nsenene clan in the Palace is to milk Kabaka's cows.

Clan Head (Omutaka)

The leader of the Nseenene Clan bears the title:

Omutaka Kalibbala

According to recent Buganda clan records, the current head of the Nseenene Clan is:

Omutaka Kalibbala Adnan Nsozi

The title Kalibbala is hereditary and is the traditional title of the head of the clan.

Seat (Obutaka) of the Clan

The ancestral headquarters of the Nsenene Clan are located at:

- Nsiisi, Busujju County (Busujju Ssaza)

Duties of the Omutaka Kalibbala

The clan head is responsible for:

1. Preserving the history and customs of the Nseenene Clan.
 2. Promoting unity among clan members.
 3. Representing the clan in the Council of Clan Heads (Olukiiko lw'Abataka).
 4. Safeguarding clan property and ancestral sites.
 5. Guiding members on marriage customs and lineage.
 6. Supporting the Kabaka and the Buganda Kingdom in cultural matters.
